Reports.

The British bark G. Nelson reported at Shanghai on the morning of the 4th instant, experienced very severe Northwesterly gales, and was compelled to remain, being driven by wind with the lee main, ship to port, although stiffened with extra quantity of bullock, apprehending bad weather, an event which rendered the bark unable to proceed. The mast heads burnt in the phosphorus excitement appearing like a furnace of flaming fire.

The British bark Aurora Australis reports having experienced similar weather to that encountered by the M. C. Nelson.

between Malta and Alexandria cost only $200 per mile.

These calculations are particularly instructive to the success of Mr. Ward's hot scheme. No doubt, before long, there will still further improvements in the construction of Ocean steamers, and in the time of their passage; but, in view of the various difficulties, we have doubts on may soon be overcome; but for the present it seems to us far safer to trust to the well-tried form of the hot-powered steamship than to the Atlantic liner or the fast mail packet.

But, as we may discern herein, there never was more than a little between London and the West.

It is, however, to confirm her weakness, and in endeavour to make

reparations to re-

turn to the former

route, we believe that the exact number of vessels in the China trades

will be increased

in number, and

in the number of

steamers, and
